PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Board Certified Clinical Psychologist (ABPP, Addiction Psychology) with over a decade of progressive leadership in Primary Care Behavioral Health (PCBH), including program development, clinical supervision, and workforce development within a federally qualified health center. Currently directs a predoctoral internship site and postdoctoral fellowship program at HealthPoint within the APA-accredited National Psychology Training Consortium (NPTC) Cascades Region, overseeing training for up to fifteen clinicians annually. Brings demonstrated experience designing and scaling integrated behavioral health programs—including a primary care-based opioid treatment program and a gender-affirming care program—through sustained collaboration with medical leadership, primary care providers, and operational stakeholders. Clinical expertise encompasses substance use disorders, trauma-related conditions (PTSD and complex PTSD), and office-based opioid treatment. Scholarly and conference contributions focus on PCBH implementation, measurement-based supervision, and the population-level development of integrated behavioral health providers. Serves on the NPTC Board as Cascades Region Training Director Representative.
